A football match – the first plan

Amelia went to the community garden on Monday at 8:15. The group wanted to explain the result to the class. At first, the plan was easy to follow. Then the timetable had changed. Amelia asked the organiser for help. The group decided to update the timetable and send it to the group. In the end, the presentation began on time. Amelia wrote the new information on a card so that everybody could read it. The group was happy because it had solved the problem together.
